Branch President Larry Konchellah said "This census may find a lot of additional residents who may not have been included in the last one. It is imperative that we get an accurate count because the population plays a significant role in determining the allocation of federal and state funds."

Man surrenders after hiding in home

By BRENDA SUNTING
SUN Editor

A man wanted by Alabama authorities was captured Tuesday afternoon after officers from the Belle Glade Police Department and the Sheriff's office Special Response Team surrounded a house where he was hiding.

Belle Glade Police Officer C.D. Whitlock said he received an anonymous phone call about 8:30 a.m. Tuesday saying a man was selling stolen tools and was possibly someone who had been seen on the television program "America's Most Wanted."

The caller gave a description of a station wagon, tag number and the man's location.

Officers Whitlock and William Murphy went to the intersection of S.W. 5th Street and S.W. Avenue B Place and saw the station wagon parked and the engine running.

Both officers approached the car and Officer Whitlock said he identified himself as a police officer and asked the driver, David Williams, 35, of 607 Covenant Drive, Apt. H, Belle Glade, to turn off the engine and place his hands on the dashboard.

Officer Whitlock said he saw Williams reach between his legs so he started to open the car door on the passenger side when Williams sped off in the car, dragging Officer Whitlock almost 20 feet before he was thrown to the pavement. He suffered a broken wrist in the incident.

A high speed chase ended when officers cornered Williams at a dead end street. He then ran from the car into the home of William and Bessie Mae Hall of 664 S.W. 6th Street.

Officers were told by two young boys who ran from the home that the couple was being held hostage and Williams had a gun. That information later proved to be false.

The Sheriff's Department's SWAT team and a hostage negotiator were called in and Williams surrendered almost immediately, police said. No weapons were found and it was learned that Williams knew the couple and they had invited him into the house after he told them he was in trouble.

Williams was charged with two counts of grand theft, opposing and obstructing officers, and fleeing and attempting to elude. He is also wanted in Alabama for grand theft and receiving stolen property, and awaits extradition to that state.

Health Care District hires administrator

The Palm Beach County Health Care District, while continuing its legal battle with Everglades Memorial Hospital in an effort to save money, has hired Edward Houck to run the district at a salary that is $30,000 more than his predecessor. He also will receive $350 per month auto allowance and will be eligible for a $23,000 bonus.

Mr. Houck, 45, is head of Community Health Corp., a non-profit company associated with Sarasota Memorial Hospital. The company was created to compete more efficiently in areas where public hospitals are restricted by law.

The district's legal battle against EMH received a setback last week from the 4th District Court of Appeal. The Court ruled against an appeal by the district of a decision by a Palm Beach County Circuit Court judge that the hospital was operating under a legal contract and could not be closed down by the district.

Lawyers for the district say they will continue the appeal process.

Accident survivor given party by friends.

A group of friends and community members recently made the holidays brighter for one Pahokee woman.

Daisy Robinson, the sole survivor of a car accident last August, was given a party and gifts last week.

Mrs. Robinson was in an accident in which her car went into the canal on Highway 441 between Belle Glade and Pahokee. Her daughter, niece and sister-in-law all drowned in the accident and she was hospitalized for several months.

Detective Duane Mayo of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office dove into the canal and saved Mrs. Robinson and tried to save the other women also.

Det. Mayo attended the celebration along with organizers Margaret Strachan and Mae Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson read a poem and others gave gifts of money and food.

Also called sick headaches, a typical migraine attack begins with a dull throbbing ache in one area of the head and progresses to a piercing pain. These torturous attacks may be preceded by a change in the field of vision - a flickering before the eyes, flashes of light or a partial blocking of the vision. They are sometimes accompanied by nausea or vomiting. They are seldom relieved by aspirin. Their duration is from 2 to 48 hours.

Winn-Dixie Cares.

The devastation left behind by Hurricane Andrew defies words. Even pictures cannot fully tell the story of the people who are left homeless, hungry and with nothing but the clothes on their backs.

These people are the reason Winn-Dixie is saying Even-It-Up. The proceeds of this program will allow the Salvation Army to help your neighbors in the south. The next time you shop at any Winn-Dixie store, just ask the cashier to Even Up your total to the next dollar or five dollars. Whatever you wish to donate will be a tremendous help to those who are desperately in need.

Community Foundation Grant-Awards Announced

The Community Foundation for Palm Beach and Martin Counties announced 57 grant awards totaling $156,999 during its full grant-making cycle.

Grants covered a variety of interests ranging from environmental education grants for a Reef Research Public Education Project conducted by the Florida Oceanographic Society, and Earth Education programs sponsored by the Pine Jog Environmental Education Center; to a reflection of the area's multicultural arts programs including the North Gallery and School of Art's exhibition by Mario Algaiz, and others.

The foundation serves as a pool for charitable funds invested for the current and future needs of Palm Beach and Martin Counties. With current assets of $25 million, the Foundation awards grants to nonprofit organizations serving the two counties and scholarships to graduating high school seniors.

Grant awards impacting the Glades area include: $1,100 to Building Blocks of Noah, Inc. to support monthly cultural excursions for a parent parent group; $3,850 to Klein Dance, Inc. to enhance the artistic and physical education of Belle Glades students; $3,300 to the Zora Neale Hurston Museum to support Africa's black history research and publishing program; $900 to Glade View Elementary School to fund pilot project Rainbow Reading, a home-school reading program; $2,500 to Palm Beach County Literacy Coalition to support a preschool teaching assistant for the Family Literacy Project; $1,500 to Friends of Abused Children, Inc. to support the Guardian ad Litem Program in Belle Glade; $5,000 to NOAH to support an off-street, safe play environment for children at South Bay Villas.

Carolyn Brown graduates

Glades Central Community High School Business Education teacher, Mrs. Carolyn Jackson Brown, graduated from the Administrative Career Development Program Dec. 15.

The program is sponsored by the School Board of Palm Beach County for future administrators. It was designed to assist in developing and training all future administrators hired within the district.

The ceremony took place at the School Board Administrative Office. Mrs. Brown was among 19 teachers from Palm Beach County.

HHS Grants awarded

Thirteen students preparing for careers in child welfare through Florida Atlantic University's Department of Social Work have received 1993 Child Welfare Traineeships under the terms of a $225,000 three-year grant to PAU from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

Recipients of $7,500 grants are Donna Everett of Boynton Beach, who will complete her traineeship at the Seminole Reservation in Hollywood and Aurora Francois of Delray Beach and Kimberly Osborn of West Palm Beach, both of whom will work in Belle Glade. Stipends of $2,700 each were awarded to ten students who will complete their senior-year field work in HRS and other child-welfare agencies.

The Department of Health and Human Services project is designed to boost recruitment of professionally trained counselors and case managers for Florida's child welfare system.

The stipends carry a commitment to seek employment in the child welfare field upon graduation.

Pfc Hopkins in Somalia

Marine Pfc. Hugh D. Hopkins, a 1988 graduate of Christian Day School, recently deployed with the Marine Expeditionary Unit, Camp Pendleton, California, for six months to the Western Pacific and Southwest Asia.

Pfc. Hopkins is currently serving with the 15th Marine Expeditionary Unit, off the coast of Somalia, and recently participated in an early-morning amphibious landing from a three-ship amphibious task unit.

The landing, which involved more than 1,700 Marines and Navy SEALs set in motion the largest humanitarian effort ever undertaken by American military forces. The operation is a textbook example of the mobility, flexibility, and capability of a forward-deployed Navy-Marine Corps team and how they effectively reach all parts of the globe on short notice, from the sea.

The amphibious task unit was already on station in the Western Pacific when it was ordered to steam to the coast of Somalia and tasked with establishing a safe and secure environment to facilitate delivering humanitarian assistance materials to a nation where thousands are suffering and dying each day.

The Marine Expeditionary Unit Service Support Group assists the Marine Expeditionary Unit which is designed to operate forward and respond on short notice to crises in distant lands. This Navy and Marine Corps "sea-air-land" team is structured to build power from the sea when required by national demands and is able to sustain support for long-term operations.

Pfc. Hopkins joined the Marine Corps in September, 1991.
